About customising your illustrations

Let's get creative

Still deciding how to customise each illustration to match your wedding or event? This brochure is full of options you can use for free. All you have to do is provide Natasha the exact name of the extra element you want.

As standard, each illustration comes on a plain white background and each adult figure is holding a champagne flute. This is how they'll come if you don't add anything.

You can add text or your own logo for free. I can also change the colours on a lot of these extra elements for no extra charge. Costs for illustrating a new extra element are outlined below.

Some extra elements can be combined too, why not add florals AND sparkles? Text can be added onto any extra elements. If you have a preference on where the text should sit, just let me know. I can use your wedding stationery fonts too if they are free or can be sent to me.
